

Parenting is HEART Work (Part One)

– Deuteronomy 6:1-6 –

As we make our way through the first six verses of Deuteronomy 6, we're going to see that our parental 'job description' has three main responsibilities, summed up by three salient verbs: LEARN — LIVE — LOVE.

1. Learn

2. Live

3. Love

Application Questions. . .

1. What part of the text or message had the greatest impact on you? Where were you most encouraged, intrigued, or challenged?
2. Why is the doctrinal truth in verse 4 so important? Share an example of a time when doctrinal truth kept you on the right path?
3. We will never grow any deeper in our walk with God than we grow in our relationship with His Word. Do you agree? Why or why not?
4. What does it look like for biblical knowledge to be in your head and in your heart?
5. What is one thing you are challenged to do in response to this passage?
6. Do you/have you had success teaching God's word to your children? What works/worked best for you?
7. How can a man or woman who feels spiritually inadequate learn to lead and train his (or her) children in the things of God?
8. Is there currently an area of your life that requires an act of obedience that feels overwhelming or discouraging? How can our group pray for you?
